RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

- 6, 2021: Participation in the research program “Harassment in the workplace of the public sector” Koinoniko Polykentro of the Greek Civil Service Confederation (ADEDY), (Scientific coordinator Maria Stratigaki, Associate Professor of Social Policy), co-financed by Greece and the European Union (European Social Fund- ESF) through the Operational Programme “Reform of the Public Sector 2014-2020”.
- 2019-2021 Associate Academic Advisor in the National Centre for Social Research (NCSR) research group (Academic Advisor Joanna Tsiganou, Directress of Research, Postdoctoral Fellow Anastasia Charalampi and Doctor Eva Tsouparopoulou) of the program co-financed by Greece and the European Union (European Social Fund- ESF) through the Operational Programme “Human Resources Development, Education and Lifelong Learning 2014-2020” and titled “Greece and Southern Europe: Investigating the political trust to institutions, social trust and human values, 2002-2017” (MIS 5049524).
- 7-9, 2015: Translation in English according to the requirements for comparability of the 2011 Greek census documents (interviewers' instructions and coding schemes) for the inclusion of the microdata for Greece in the Integrated Public Use Microdata Series International (IPUMS-International) available by the Minnesota Population Centre at the University of Minnesota.

- 2012–2014: Participation in the designing and analysis of the evaluation project on primary health care (Labour Institute of Greek Trade Unions).
- 2006–2008: Participation in the designing and analysis of the evaluation project on active labour market policies in the certain prefectures (Labour Institute of Greek Trade Unions).
Participation in the designing and analysis on the Female Genital Mutilation (FGM) and health issues of the African women living in Athens (Greek-Sudanese Friendship Organization, Labour Institute of Greek Trade Unions in cooperation with the EuroNet-FGM).
- 2005–2006: Translation in English according to the requirements for comparability of the Greek census documents (questionnaires, interviewers' instructions, coding schemes) for 1971, 1981, 1991 and 2001 for the inclusion of the microdata for Greece in the Integrated Public Use Microdata Series International (IPUMS-International) available by the Minnesota Population Centre at the University of Minnesota.
- 2001–2002: Participation in the National Centre for Social Research (NCSR) research group (Professor E. Panagiotatou, Directress of NCSR, E. Manologlou, A. Markou, I. Sagias) for the preparation of the first face of the European Social Survey (ESS). Responsible for the analytical research design: report on the sampling design (area sample) and presentation of non-response data from Greek surveys; reports (3) commenting on the questions and their execution; presentation of Greek contextual data on nationality, religion and language; report on the planning, organization and execution of the fieldwork and especially the implementation of the sampling design in the field (construction of sampling frames, sample selection, response, instructions); report on the execution of the supplementary questionnaire; reviewer of the two translations of both questionnaires and preparation of the final versions. NCSR' decision for a private company to undertake the execution of the survey (second face) and my strongly objecting to such a practice did not permit me to participate in the second face of the program.
- 1995–1998: Head investigator of the NCSR research group (P. Tsartas, M. Giannesopoulou, P. Kafetzis, E. Manologlou, E. Tsakiri, A. Markou, E. Prontzas) of the program titled 'Greek and Balkan relations: the impact of xenophobia on the economic and social development of Northern Greece- Macedonia'. (EU: Program EPET II). This study had a dual purpose: on the one hand, it examined the phenomenon of xenophobia by looking into "otherness", that is the presence of the "other", the "foreigner", in the collective images and concepts of the population, and by systematically describing the attitudes of the local population towards foreigners, especially those from the Balkan countries; on the other hand, it examined the process of development in the region of Macedonia focusing on its economic and social relations with the Balkan and Eastern European countries. Methodologically, three different levels of empirical observation were combined: a large-scale sample survey among the population of Macedonia; a study of key-informants (businessmen, representatives of public and professional organizations, development companies, non-governmental organizations and university professors); an anthropological case study in a Macedonian area with a distinct ethnic and cultural identity and a specific organization of its everyday life.
- 1996–1997: Consultant of the Greek research group (Associate Professor O. Stasinopoulou, Head) at the Centre of Social Morphology and Social Policy (Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences) working on the investigation of the voluntary sector and the construction of a data basis for the Southern European countries (VOLMED).

- 1992–1993: Responsible for the planning (sampling and questionnaire design), analysis and presentation of the report of the survey on the attitudes towards linguistic minorities, that was carried out on a national sample of 1200 persons on May 1993 (Professor C. Tsoukalas, Head, program EU-Lambrakis Institute of Studies).
- 1989–1993: Participation in NCSR research group (Professor C. Tsoukalas, I. Nikolakopoulos) on the quality of attitude and opinion measurement (Professor F. Andrews and Professor W. Saris, Head of the international project), the execution of MTMM-studies on the satisfaction of life, work etc. questions and experiments on the twelve questions-trends of the Eurobarometer. In January 1990, I wrote the “Report on the Greek Eurobarometer public opinion survey” (to Professor K. Reif) where the problems of the Greek translation of the questions-trends were presented along with an evaluation of the question on political interest based on the results of the three consecutive surveys conducted by NCSR (May 1988, May 1989 and April 1990). In March 1990 an experiment was carried out on the different versions of the satisfaction from life, work, etc. questions but our participation in the project was discontinued due to lack of funds. This international research effort led to the organization of the ESS.
- 1989–1990: Participation in the NCSR research group (Professor C. Tsoukalas, Head), responsible for the planning designing and execution of the three consecutive national surveys on political culture and political behaviour that were carried out before the national elections of May 1989 (on a sample of 2000 persons), October 1989 (on a sample of 1200 persons) and March 1990 (on a sample of 1200 persons), conducting also a series of theoretical-methodological tests.
- 1987–1989: Participation in the joint NCSR (Professor C. Tsoukalas, Head) and French-Observatoire Interregional du Politique (OIP) research program on political sociology and the investigation of the methodological prerequisites for comparative research. For this project the next two mentioned surveys were used.
- 1987–1988: Participation in the NCSR research group (I. Nikolakopoulos and M. Pantelidou-Malouta, Head), responsible for the planning, design and execution of the survey on political behavior of women that was carried out on a national sample of 3000 persons (2000 women and 1000 men), on May 1988, conducting also a series of theoretical-methodological tests
- 1985–1987: Participation in the NCSR research group (Professor G. Mavrokordatos and I. Nikolakopoulos), responsible for the planning, designing and execution of the comparative (Greece, Italy, Spain and Portugal) survey on political culture in the countries of Southern Europe, that was carried out on a national sample of 1998 persons on May 1985.
